

There is No Death.

There is no death! The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore;
And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown,
They shine for evermore.

There is no death! The dust we tread
Shall change to blossom on the summer flower;
To golden grain or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow-tinted flowers.

The granite rocks disorganize,
And feed the hungry moss they bear;
The forest leaves drink daily life
From out the vernal air.

There is no death! The leaves may fall,
And flowers may fade and pass away;
They only wait through wintry hours
The coming of May-day.

There is no death! An angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread,
And bears our best-loved things away,
And then we call them "dead."

He leaves our hearts all desolate,
He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers;
Transplanted into bliss, they now
Adorn immortal bowers.

The birdlike voice, whose joyous tones
Fare glad these scenes of sin and strife,
Sings now an everlasting song
Around the tree of life.

Where'er he sees a smile too bright,
Or heart too pure for taint and vice,
He bears it to that world of light,
To dwell in paradise.

Born unto that undying life,
They leave us but to come again;
With joy we welcome them the same,
Except their sin and pain.

And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear, immortal spirits tread;
For all the bonnie is universe
Is life—there is no dead.

THE CAMPAIGN NEWS.

Greely Against Grant—A Paper for the People.

The Presidential Campaign for 1872 has opened. It will be the most exciting that the country has ever known. The issues involved are extraordinary in character, and come directly home to every citizen. The overthrow of Grant and the election of Greely mean Honesty and Reform in the National Administration, the triumph of Law and the restoration of Peace and Harmony throughout our land, and a return to the fundamental principles of government which prevailed in the better days of the Republic.

The most intense interest will naturally be felt in the progress and result of the struggle, especially in the South, where the material prosperity of the people and their relief from organized persecution and robbery are involved. We mean that THE CHARLESTON NEWS shall at this juncture in no respect fail to deserve the favor which has been accorded to it as an earnest, enterprising and outspoken chronicle of the events of the day. And, in order to place our several editions within the reach of all, we offer them for the period of four months, covering the interval from this time until after the election, at the following low rates:

THE MOTHER-IN-LAW BILL.

(From the Chicago Post.)

A bill has been introduced in the New York Senate, and favorably reported by the Judiciary Committee, which is irreverently styled the Mother-in-law's bill. This bill is intended to protect the wife of a man who has been convicted of a crime, and who is unable to support her, from being taken advantage of by a man who is unable to support her. The bill is intended to protect the wife of a man who has been convicted of a crime, and who is unable to support her, from being taken advantage of by a man who is unable to support her.

The friend she always shares her sorrow with,
Medora Gertrude Wilhelmina Smith—
with whom she used to quarrel and confide at boarding-school, from whom she has received long letters, crossed three and full of ill-will and affection, and who never travels without three Saratoga trunks and a bird-cage. Is the young artist with long hair and a wild expression in his eyes, on whom Belinda relies so much, for his lovely painting, or his dear singing, or his angelic fidelity, or his charming, peculiar, and somewhat morose, to be considered a "friend" and so come within the provisions of the act? And again, as to relatives. Are you bound to entertain "cousins" unwelcome, who exhort Belinda to marry, and who, in the meantime, are making her a "brute" and "an unfeeling monster" there? And when one comes to divine service, who shall set the bounds? Do the offices of religion, indispensable to the American mind, make the frequent assembling together at one's house of sewing societies, whereat shrill whistles and talls and scandal without charity are constructed, and all washed down with tea-bitter as juice of cursed hellebore in a vial? If you will not let Belinda be a Sister of the Stranger, or First Directress of the Zozoony Myungpoo Calico Mission, or Secretary of the Society for the Promotion of Something, or the Repression of Everything, may she, therefore, shirk the duty of her little boots against your doorstep forever? Finally, who is to be the judge as to what renders a woman's life uncomfortable? For, look you, there be women and women. Some there are who find married life rendered a burden to them if their husbands look at another woman's bonnet, or if they treat their pet kittens, or pots, or dear marmalade with neglect, or if they do not deck the shrine of Hyacinth daily with roses of bonnets and ducks of dresses. The fact is that this bill is not by any means the weak invention of that enemy of matrimony, Victoria C. Woodhull. Should its passage be secured, nothing will prevent her from pursuing happiness for herself by legally marrying all the male population of the United States at the rate of three hundred and sixty-five a year, and commencing happiness on others by being divorced from them with equal dispatch. Divorce will then be the rule, and marriage, in any sense of continuance, the exception. Wives will be as fickle as the hummingbird that hovers from flower to flower, dwelling nowhere. History will proudly enshrine the name—that is to say, one of the names—of the originator of this novel and convenient bill. Rouses yet unborn sons rise up to do her honor, and generations of jills shall call her blessed.
